His heart cannot be pure whose tongue is not clean.

Nothing is so opened more by mistake than the mouth.

In company, guard your tongue – in solitude, your thoughts.

It is bad to think ill, but it is worse to speak it.

Most of a man's sins are in his words.

How can Christ be in the heart when the devil has taken possession of the tongue?

If I speak what is false, I must answer for it; if the truth, it will answer for me.
